COMMANDER'S MESSAGE

With the New Year upon us, I can't begin to tell you how proud I felt as Post #372 Commander while standing and studying the delightful Canteen and Hall decorations amid our traditional holiday settings during last month's festive Christmas and New Year's Post celebrations.

And, with the New Year, I sincerely hope and pledge to maintain this warm spirit of welcoming hospitality, especially for new members and specifically those younger veterans' returning from some of the conflicts simmering across the world. (Incidentally, if you know any, let them know how welcome they are at Post #372.)

I have many members I would like to say "thank you" for all your help but I'm always afraid I may miss one of you. Many of you have stepped up to the plate and taken on new responsibilities. We have enjoyed a good year together with many activities taking place here at the post and outside.

To recap on a few of our latest events at the Legion - Our Veteran's Day ceremony was very touching and made all of us proud to be an American. The Gold Star mother's participated in the program and one of our local Cherry Hill Gold Star mothers was presented with a personalized Honor and Remember Flag in honor of her son, who made the ultimate sacrifice in 2005. The Honor and Remember Flag is now official for the State of New Jersey. The Cherry Hill Cub Scouts paid a visit to the post with their families.

Russ Smith challenged the scouts with a show and tell game and we all en-wood for our Legion Fireplace – a day of hard work chopping wood. The Ladies Auxiliary has spruced up the front of the post with flowers in the fall and holiday decorations for the winter season.

Many of our members have participated in Welcome Homes for our returning servicemen and women, Thanksgiving for the Troops, and the Cpt Greg Dalessio Annual 5K Memorial Run (a Cherry Hill native KIA in Iraq), to name a few. Details and photos can be found in this edition of the Scoop and on our website.

Hopefully this new year we can continue to make a few improvements to the post (maybe the wagon wheel will disappear ha-ha)

Time passes quickly and before we know it, winter will be upon us in full force, gosh I hope we don't have too much snow I may have to stay home and do the Honey Do List.

Please check web site at www.alch372.com for more information on coming events.

Lastly I would like to wish you all the best in the coming new year.

Several times each season, he would host cookouts and barbeques. During his tenure as Commander he created programs that generated revenues for the Post and allocated financial support yearly for the Post 372 Baseball program. Tom's military career spanned 42 years both active duty and in the Air Force Reserves. Tom passed away 20 November 2006

For the past several Christmases, Marty Catalano, a loyal Post member and a manager at the Lockheed-Martin Company, has been the anonymous Santa for many of the underprivileged kids in the Cherry Hill neighborhoods. Each year, Marty in a generous act of charitable kindness, has donated hundreds of toys and gifts for under-the-tree Christmas display at the Post and later distribution by Carol Colucci and our Ladies Auxiliary. This year, as a bonus, Marty donated several beautiful decorated Christmas Wreaths to add an even more glamorous touch to the Post holiday appearance.... Longtime Post member and Chaplain Chester Malik worked more than 30 years with Burns Pontiac in Cherry Hill. And, as a retired skilled auto mechanic for the popular dealership, he is still treated as a member of inner-family at holiday time. Resplendent in his bright red formal jacket, Chester joined his former colleagues at their annual Christmas dinner at Flemings

Steakhouse last month. Meanwhile, our proficient Post Chaplain graciously gifted his grandson more than $1,000.00 worth of specialty mechanics tools to his 25-year-old grandson, a coveted culmination collected during his years at Burns... In spite of the miserable and depressing season for avid Philadelphia Eagles' fans, Post members enjoyed just a bit of a ray of a silver lining. As we get into the end of the football schedule, the E-Board renewed its season-long rule of offering Happy Hour prices for Canteen drinks during an Eagles game....The always happy-go-lucky SALs member, Harry Price, who has done so much to beautify the Post property, has done it again. This time Harry, who's famous for his iconic sculpture-on-the-bar-wall silhouette, "A Soldiers Lament" depicting a GI kneeling before a battlefield cross, has now turned to Photo Art. His newest icon, now gracing our Canteen is a beautiful 30-inch wide panoramic photo view of the Post' private outside grounds and building in an attractive lifelike burnished brown Fall setting. It's just another magnificent gift from Harry. He now resumes his "snowbird" commutes to Mara- thon, Florida this month to come up with possibly more ideas for enhancing the Post's personality on his Spring return to #372....Carol Colucci along with her tireless staff of Ladies Auxiliary officers and members put dozens of smiles on the faces of all of the kids that joined in the annual Post Christmas Party, a highlight of the Post holiday season.along with Carol, some of her helpers included Kim Bierbach, Sue Quinn and Michelle Derer, among others..And didn't everybody who visited our Canteen during the holidays get a kick out of the life-sized Santa Claus that brightened the scene. Santa, who occasionally talked, sang and moved his mitts, was a surprise gift to our Post from Valerie Norton who's also our effervescent Sunday post bartender...Well, it's the beginning of the year...Got any complaints at the Post yet? If so, remember that Commander Bill Quinn has set up an easily accessible "Suggestion Box" inviting comments, new ideas and, yes, complaints from anonymous members and visitors to our building. The box, if you're interested, is located on the shelf next to the pull-tab machine...

Could this be the year that the popular big guy, Stan Pekarick, finally delivers on his longtime promise to Charlie Alberti, Ernie Brosh--and others--to bring back some of those delicious crabs from his weekend retreat along the eastern shores of Delaware...We're waiting....

MESSAGE FROM THE SAL COMMANDER

The winter season is upon us which brings us into a new year and many more events. Before we look forward into the New Year, I would like to look back into the year that was and reflect on some of the many great things that were done within this organization.

In early November, the SALS conducted our annual log splitting. The turnout was more than could be expected and was well appreciated. A special thanks to all that attended. The attendees included: Phil Beck, Mike Goffinet, Jim Arcinese, Wheels, John Donegan and his son Charlie, Bob Segrest, Gary Gottron, Bill Norton, Robert Arcinese, Henry, Fran Keashen, and John Giacoboni. John Giacoboni came through with his log splitter that put ours to shame and CUT our work time in half. A special thanks also to Robert Arcinese for donating his tarps to keep the wood dry. We could not do it without you guys! The legion is a warmer place because of it and I'm sure the general members don't mind lower heating bills.

The Veterans Day ceremony was held on Sunday, November 11th. Commander Bill Quinn gave an exceptional and emotional speech which touched the hearts of all of us. The ceremony continued with the flag retirement and the induction of the "Honor and Remember" flag. This flag was funded by the SALS, Ladies Auxiliary, and American Legion Riders. The flag has officially been recognized as a state flag and will be flown to remember those who we have lost in the military.

Looking towards the New Year, the SALS will be embarking on new projects and events throughout our organization and community. To learn more and to get involved, all members are encouraged to attend our meetings which are held the 3rd Wednesday of every month. If you have not paid your dues, it's not too late to continue your enrollment for 2013.

For God and Country,
Tim Viguers
SAL Commander

MESSAGE FROM THE LEGION RIDERS DIRECTOR

Each chapter of the ALR manages its programs at the post level. Our founding members of the 372 ALR determined part of direction would focus on working with the other rider organizations in the area as we believed the mission these rider organizations are similar to ours in part through promoting and supporting Our Veterans, Veterans Homes, Veterans Hospitals and our Active Military.

As Riders, we accomplished a lot throughout the year, but especially during the fall. A few of the fall events we have supported include, The Run for the Fallen, Sgt Sineath Rally, Veterans Day Ceremony, Thanksgiving for the Troops, the Pennsauken Parade, non-riding events like the Comfort Food Cook Off. Turnout for these events have been very high. Additionally, we ride with many other motorcycle organizations including Nam Knights, Warriors Watch, Freedom Riders, Post 84 Riders, and AmVet Riders. (I'm certain I have missed some).

Our focus on working with other Veteran support based motorcycle organizations has worked very well. This is clearly evidenced by the growth of the motorcycle events we have been involved in. The rally for Sgt Kenneth Sineath was a major event with an escort of well over 100 motorcycles, probably closer to 120, with representation from many rider organizations, members various VFW and American Legion posts, Colonel Bancroft, Cherry Hill Firefighters, and political dignitaries. The Cherry Hill Law Enforcement Officers were there insuring our safety during the ride.

We have had a good year supporting the American Legion, our Veterans, and Active Military.

Riders, Job Well Done.

I hope you all had a wonderful holiday season.

Our next meeting is Monday, 01/28/2013 at 07:30 PM

For God and Country,

MESSAGE FROM LADIES PRESIDENT

If you are reading this issue of the Scoop the Mayans were wrong. The world did not end, which is a wonderful thing for all of us .I hope everyone had a safe and happy Christmas and is starting the New Year with good health and hope for a better year ahead. Our state weathered a horrific storm in October and we as a post have helped our fellow New Jersey neighbors through donations of clothes, food, prayers and of course the all important financial assistance. One of our newer members even spent a few weeks on site in New York doing his part. This is a big reason the American Legion Auxiliary exists, Veterans live in every part of our country and our support helps them and their families. Thank you to everyone in our Legion family for your support. If you were in our post on Veteran's Day you were fortunate enough to see a wonderful tribute to our nation's flag, our Veterans and to some special ladies. Our post had the honor of presenting the "Honor and Remember" flag for a Gold Star mother. To be a Gold Star Mother a huge loss had to take place, they have lost a child through the military. Unfortunately Cherry Hill has three of these special people from our current military actions. The Auxiliary, SAL and our Legion Riders came together to present this special flag to honor their child and their great loss. It was a special privilege to host the State Gold Star Mother as well as 3 others during our Veteran's Day service. Hopefully we won't need to present another one as 3 in one town is 3 to many, but we will always take care of our home town military. If you are look at the front of our post home you will see a big improvement. The sections have been cleaned up. Our Legionnaires decided to pave the main part of each section to deter the weeds from taking over. This in itself was a huge improvement but then two of our newest members a father/daughter team armed with shovels and rakes came to make the place look beautiful for the fall season. It is now decorated for Christmas with the help of the Auxiliary. I can't wait to see the next installment. Drive by periodically to check on our progress, stop in and meet some new people. We have signed up quite a few new members recently, who knows maybe we could start a league again. I hear some of the members shoot a good game of shuffleboard as well as pool. Either way take pride in our post we do a lot for our Veterans as well as the community. If you know of a high school junior in Cherry Hill our post is one of the leaders in the Girls and Boys State Program which is a wonderful addition to any student's accomplishments. Check out our website ALCH372.com for more things on the horizon. For God and country,

Carol Colucci
President

Veterans Day 2012

Welcome Home / Send Off for Sgt 1st Class Kenneth Sineath

CHERRY HILL— With Sgt. 1st Class Kenneth Sineath, going above and beyond the call of duty takes on a new meaning.

The Army paratrooper returned from Afghanistan last month after his third tour of duty.

And come the spring, he'll be deploying on his fourth stint. To where, the special-ops soldier wouldn't say.

On Saturday, Sineath's extraordinary dedication to country was celebrated as hundreds gathered outside the Cherry Hill home of his fiancée, Jessica Giacoboni.

Heralded by the roar of the Warriors Watch and 'Nam

Knights motorcycle clubs, Sineath and Giacoboni arrived at the Massachusetts Avenue house in a convertible stretch limousine.

Under a bright, blue autumn sky, neighbors, friends and family lined the street waving American flags and cheering. A huge version of the stars and stripes was hung from the rescue bucket of a firetruck.

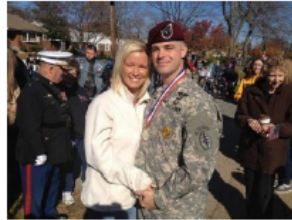

"I don't know even how to describe this," said Sineath, 28, as he surveyed the crowd. "I'm overwhelmed. Never in my wildest dreams would I have expected something like this.

"I almost cried."

Sineath was presented with more than a half-dozen proclamations, medals and commemorative coins from the various military and civic groups in attendance.

Freeholder-Director Louis Cappelli called Sineath a "true American hero" after presenting the soldier with a Camden County Military Medal.

"The service he provides to us is invaluable," Cappelli said. "And this is certainly a fitting, heartwarming and touching tribute.

Sineath and Giacoboni will be getting married Saturday.

"I'm so excited to get married,"

Giacoboni said. "And this welcome home for him, I love it. This was a big surprise for both of us. I kind of knew a little about it, but nothing like this."

Legion Adjutant Russell Smith presented the couple with their official membership card to the post.

"All of us welcome you today and congratulate you both as you start your lives together," Smith said to the couple. And as you head out on your next assignment, we wish you Godspeed. We salute you."

Sineath, a native of Columbia, S.C., joined the Army in 2002.

He is a Purple Heart recipient, and has been honored with more than a dozen medals and badges. Among them: the Army Commendation Medal, the Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, and a Combat Infantry Badge.

The soft-spoken and humble military man shrugged off the size of his numerous calls to service.

"I'll go as many times as I need to," he said. "I'll do whatever my nation needs me to do."

Township Council President Dave Fleisher officially proclaimed Saturday Army Sgt. 1st Class Kenneth Sineath Day in the township of Cherry

Hill.

"It's the Thanksgiving season," he said, "but every single day we offer our gratitude to people like Ken who make sacrifices by serving in the military."

After the presentations, accolades and continued shouts of "Welcome Home," Sineath spoke to the crowd and thanked his fellow vets for their service.

"This means more to me than I could express to any one person in a lifetime. Thank you from the bottom of my heart."

Then, looking toward his wife-to-be: "My future wife has stood by me through a lot. She knows exactly what it's like to be a military wife and now she's going to legally be a military wife. Thanks for everything, Jess."

Back to the crowd: "Thank you, Cherry Hill. I appreciate all you have done, and you will have a very special place in my heart. Hopefully, I can return the favor one day."

"You already have, four times over," a man yelled.

5th Annual Memorial Run for Captain Greg Dalessio

On December 1, 2012, the 5th Annual Cpt Greg Dalessio Memorial 5K Run/Walk was held in Cherry Hill. Legion members have participated since the conception of the run and did so again this year.

Legion members flagged the 5K route to help runners/walkers navigate through the neighborhood. A special thank you goes out to Russ Smiths' girls, Becky, Kelly, and Mary for rolling out of bed so early and helping us out with this! Much appreciated girls!

The Legion also supplied bananas and oranges for the runners after the run.

Some members participated in Motorcycle and Flag Line, which is set up at the beginning of the race, which starts at Christ the Light Church on Kings Highway. And of course, our dear friends of the Deer Park Fire Rehab were on hand providing hot coffee and snacks!

9th Annual Thanksgiving For The Troops

A crowd of about 1,000 area residents blanketed one side of the Americas Best Choice Hotel's parking lot off Route 70 on Thanksgiving morning to greet four busloads of soldiers from Joint Base McGuire-Dix-Lakehurst.

The troops had no idea they were headed to a surprise Thanksgiving dinner at the inn's Palace of Asia Ballroom.

It was the 9th annual Feed the Troops Thanksgiving Day celebration. Our American Legion is a sponsor for this annual event.

As the buses slid one at a time in front of the hotel entrance, surrounded by hundreds of motorcycles that escorted them in, veterans shouted to the crowd to "make a hole, make a hole." The Joint Base soldiers debarked and saluted Col. Jeffrey Doll, commander of Army Support at the base.

Once again, Legion members came out in force for this annual event.

WWII Remains returning to New Jersey – Staff Sergeant Zoltan Joseph Dobovich, US Army Air Corps

On Nov. 1, 1946, Staff Sergeant Zoltan Joseph Dobovich, US Army Air Corps and seven other crew members were aboard a B-17G Flying Fortress that went missing after departing from Naples, Italy, bound for Boving-ton, England. During the months following the loss, search and rescue attempts proved unsuccessful and the remains of the crewmen were declared non-recoverable.

In 1947, a French military unit operating in the French-Italian Alps, near Estellette Glacier, found the wreckage of a U.S. aircraft at an altitude of more than 12,000 feet. The French team recovered human remains from the site which were turned over to U.S. officials. They also reported that much of the ice-covered wreckage would likely not emerge for 30 years, after the glacier descended the slope. Due to the technology limitations of the time, the remains could not be attributed to.

Until now.

More than 60 years after he was declared deceased, his remains will be flown into Philadelphia International Airport on 24 Dec 2012 and escorted to the Perinchief Funeral Home in Mt Holly for a Service. On 27 December 2012 Staff Sergeant Dobovich will be laid to rest at the BG William C. Doyle Memorial Cemetery in Wrightstown, NJ.

Bronze Star Awarded to Local Veteran

Arthur Seltzer, a World War II Army veteran of D-Day, the Battle of the Bulge, and the liberation of Dachau, was nearly silenced by all the tragedy he saw, but he began to open up to his family, and then the community, in recent years, bringing to light his actions during one of history's greatest battles. On Nov. 22, at the 9th Annual Feed the Troops Thanksgiving Day Celebration in Cherry Hill, he received an honor that's been 68 years in the making—the Bronze Star. Seltzer, 87, the former Jewish War Veterans New Jersey State and Post 126 commander, blew up radio equipment as the enemy advanced during the Battle of the Bulge, putting himself in danger before retreating, to ensure it wouldn't fall into the wrong hands. He was supposed to be bestowed the Bronze Star in 1966, but it never came. His former commander saw a recent news segment on Fox News, in which Seltzer described his harrowing experiences on Omaha Beach and throughout Europe, and was able to verify the missing information needed for Seltzer to receive this well-deserved honor.

Home for the Brave, a service of the Volunteers of America of the Delaware Valley, will offer housing and services to homeless veterans throughout Camden County

On Wednesday morning, (12/12/2012), Brigadier Gen. James J. Grant made a call to commanders on the ground in Afghanistan. He spoke with two officers from the New Jersey National Guard's 117th Combat Sustainment Support Battalion: Lt. Col. Paul Rumberger and Major Gen. Ed Dowgin.

The conversation among the three lasted only a few minutes — just long enough for Grant to explain that he would attend a ribbon-cutting ceremony that day for a new homeless shelter for veterans in the Delaware Valley.

There was silence on the line. Then came the response from overseas:

"Thank you."

According to the Delaware Valley chapter of Volunteers of America, which opened the new, 20,000-square-foot wing of its Camden homeless shelter specifically designed for veterans, 20 percent of all homeless people in Camden County are veterans.

Nationally, the chapter says, there are 100,000 homeless veterans on the streets on any given night. Nearly half of them are Vietnam War veterans, and 18 percent have what Volunteers of America describes as "serious mental health issues." In addition, homeless veterans are more likely to suffer from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

"I am speaking to you now from what used to be just a parking lot," said Gina Adams, chief operating officer of Volunteers of America in the Delaware Valley and director of the new homeless veterans' shelter on Atlantic Avenue. She stood among local military and legislative officials applauding the new facility.

She added: "We started this many years ago with just a grant application — and a wing and a prayer."

Volunteers of America has been operating the Aletha R. Wright Vision of Hope Center for homeless, single men since 1991. However, according to Volunteers of America Delaware Valley CEO Dan Lombardo, officials at the nonprofit noticed an increasing number of U.S. military veterans among the men they were assisting.

"Absolutely, there were a lot of veterans coming through here, and we were helping them, getting them to the [Department of Veterans Affairs], and we decided to have this new facility for them, so they can have more privacy and so we can better serve their needs," he said.

Officials broke ground on the new wing, called "Home of the Brave," on March 27. Funded through a "patchwork" of state and federal grants, contributions from local banks and private donations, the project cost $2.4 million, according to Lombardo.

The veterans' wing houses 30 beds — two in each dormitory-sized room — as well as multiple common areas and interview rooms.

There is already a waiting list of about 30 homeless veterans, many of whom are residents of various "tent cities" in Camden County, ready to move in, the CEO said.

"We have several from the tent cities on the way," Lombardo said. "We hope to have the shelter filled by the end of the month."

Grant, the Joint Staff director at the New Jersey National Guard Joint Force headquarters at Fort Dix, said it was "absolutely unacceptable" that so many veterans find themselves homeless after returning from serving their country abroad.

He applauded officials who championed the expansion, stating they understand the problem of homeless veterans that's facing this country.

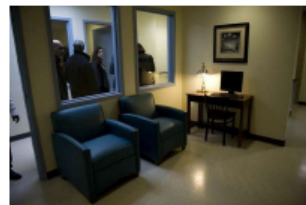

"You not only get it, but you get it right," he said.

Later, he added: "When I was speaking to the commanders on the ground in Afghanistan, I told them what I was going to be doing today, and they said

'Thank you,' because they know the soldiers are going to come home after serving — and they know that some are going to have issues, and some could become homeless.

Stay tuned for more information about the Home for the Brave and how you can help our local homeless veterans.
